Kurzbeschreibung Jordan, 1970. After a summer spent with her family, fifteen-year-old Anna is travelling back to her English boarding school alone. But her plane never makes it home. Anna's flight is hijacked by Palestinian guerillas. They land the plane in the Jordanian desert, switch off the engines and issue their demands. If these are not met within three days, they will blow up the plane, killing all the hostages. The heat on board becomes unbearable; food and water supplies dwindle. Anna begins to face the possibility she may never see her family again. Time is running out . . . Based on true events, this is a story about ordinary people facing agonizing horror, of courage and resilience. Pressestimmen "Nerve-shredding ... Check where the tissues are before getting to the final reunion" (Nicholas Tucker Independent) "A unique and extraordinary story, exceptionally well told. Miriam Moss enables her readers to share her own life-defining experience; we can only admire the courage and resilience shown by her and the other human beings caught up in it." (Books for Keeps, 5 Stars) "A tense, gripping and heart-rending must-read for teens and adults alike" (Z J Cookson The Bookbag) "An unpatronising, tense and hard-hitting read." (Armadillo Magazine) Werbetext Nominated for the Carnegie Medal. Based on incredible events from the author's own life, this is the story of a plane hijacking, told from the point of view of a fifteen-year-old hostage.
