KundenrezensionenHilfreichste Kundenrezensionen0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Challenging!Von Ralf SchowalterWilder - Smith wei, wovon er redet (bzw. schreibt).In logisch nachvollziehbarer und wissenschaftlich fundierter Argumentation zeigt er, dass elementare biblische Lehrinhalte (Schpfung...) und moderne wissenschaftliche Erkenntnisse erstaunlich deckungsgleich sind. Ein Buch (eigentlich 3 Bcher), das herausfordert und zum Nachdenken anregt!

Kurzbeschreibung Insights on Creation, Suffering, and Evil A compilation of three bestsellers by A.E. Wilder-Smith Does He Who Thinks Have to Believe? Is This a God of Love? Why Does God Allow it? Dr. A.E. Wilder-Smith reasons through three thought-provoking questions: Does He Who Think Have to Believe? A hypothetical story about a society of primitive Neanderthal people discovered by a modern rescue team. The rescuers are amazed to find that the natives have quite reasonably come to the conclusion that there is a Creator God. Is This a God of Love? Many today stumble at the seeming conflict between the truth that God is Love, and the obvious suffering we see in the world around us. This is primarily written to the unbeliever who wants to believe, but lacks a good perspective of the world in which we live. Why Does God Allow it? If there is a God, why does He permit violence and suffering in the world? Sensible answers to questions that have plagued people since the beginning of time.
